Amy: Hi, Luke.

Luke: Hi, Amy. Can you speak loudly, please? I can't hear you.

Amy: Why? Where are you? What's that noise, Luke?

Luke: I'm sitting on the bus. I'm going home from school. Why are you calling? Is there a special reason?

Amy: No, nothing special. I'm at home and I haven't got anything to do.

Luke: Have you got any homework? I've got five pages of maths homework to do!

Amy: No, I haven't got any homework. And I don't want to stay at home this evening.

Luke: So, let's go out. What do you want to do? How about going to the cinema?

Amy: The cinema? ... hmm ... No, there aren't any good films on at the moment.

Luke: Maybe the ice rink?

Amy: No, I can't skate. My foot hurts. Do you want to go to the bowling alley? Our school team practises there on Tuesdays. We can watch them.

Luke: No. I don't want to go to the bowling alley. I go bowling twice a week. I don't want to go again today. Do you want to go to the café? It's fun to drink coffee and watch the people.

Amy: I know, but a cup of coffee costs three and a half pounds at the café. I don't want to spend money. I know! We can hang out at the shopping centre. That's fun and cheap, too.

Luke: OK. What time do you want to meet?

Amy: How about half past six?

Luke: Fine. Half past six. See you there!
